Branch Office Of District Ration Board To Open In Sierra Madre

Local Members Of Various Panels To Have Headquarters In City Hall

Sierra Madre is to have a branch office of the district Price and Rationing Board, eliminating the necessary of residents here going to Monrovia. Arthur O. Pritchard will be in charge and the headquarters will be in the council chamber of the city hall where office hours will be observed daily from 2 until 5 o'clock Monday through Friday.

Sierra Madre members of the various rationing panels will make their headquarters here, issuing all types of forms and information and receiving applications. It is announced however, that all applications and forms must be passed upon by the district board at headquarters in S. Myrtle ave., Monrovia. When action is taken there, local applications will be returned here.

Aside from the seemingly useless waste of gas and tires local residents have been greatly inconvenienced by the necessity of going to Monrovia to bring their problems before the board. It has been particularly annoying for persons who do not own automobiles. When the new ration books are issued the inconvenience would have been greater. Dr. Pritchard and other Sierra Madre members of the various panels have been urging that steps be taken to avoid this inconvenience and the local headquarters will be well established before the new ration registration is taken and books issued. The new books will be issued here.

Beginning Monday, February 1, all evening hours will be abolished at the Ration Board Headquarters at 129 South Myrtle ave., in Monrovia. The office headquarters will be open daily Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Saturday from 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon.

FORTY TWO PERSONS IN TWO STANDARD FIRST AID CLASSES TO RECEIVE CERTIFICATES

Forty two more Sierra Madreans have completed the necessary requirements in the standard first aid course and were recommended this week as entitled to receive certificates.

Pratt, Dan C. Reib, Mrs. W. D. Richards, W. D. Richards, Harold F. Roberts, Leila M. Roberts, T. M. Tarwater, Mrs. Cordelia Whitney, Frederick L. Whitney.

This class is outstanding because so many members have key positions in Civilian Defense and every member is or plans to be active in some civilian defense position.

This is what each one is doing. W. D. Richards, on the control board as chief of fire service; Harold Roberts, chief evacuation officer of Civilian Defense and Red Cross. 25,000 Block Leaders Are Enrolling

New Figures In Defense Have Many Important Duties To Perform

Enlistment of over 25,000 Block Leaders for the Citizens Service Corps of the County Defense Council is now under way, according to Heman Stark, executive of the service corps.

The number of Block Leaders will approximate the number of air raid wardens, forming a team of workers which will adequately cover all phases of civilian defense.

"The Block Leader is a relatively new figure in civilian defense," explained Stark. "They will head up what we like to call the 'offensive arm' of civilian defense. The air raid warden, auxiliary police, firemen and emergency medical personnel are organized for defense. When you save a pound of grease, save tires and rubber, buy bonds and stamps, raise a victory garden to save vital food for our soldiers you are taking a direct slap at the Axis. It is to organize this type of effort that the Block Leader is being trained."

Block Leaders will be selected for every block and neighborhood of the county, given a course of training and sworn into office at mass graduation ceremonies. Following their graduation they will then take the leadership of the service corps. Volunteers can apply to their local defense council for assignment.

Democracy Is Graduation Theme Here

Twelve pupils will receive diplomas at the midyear graduation assembly of the Sierra Madre Grammar School in the school auditorium to-morrow (Friday) at 1 p.m. Superintendent Gerald Smith will present the diplomas.

"Lights in the Windows of Democracy" is the theme of a pageant to be presented by the graduating class. It depicts the world growth of democracy since the golden age of Greece in a series of art windows painted by the 8th grade class. The first window exemplifies democracy in ancient Greece, the second, Christianity, the third, the Magna Charta, fourth, the renaissance, fifth, Independence, sixth, freedom and the seventh, the Atlantic Charter. The program was planned and arranged by Miss Betty Newton with each member of the graduating class taking an active part. Miss Florence Lusted directed art work and stage settings and Harry Oskney wired the stage for lighting assisted by Malcolm Gerschler and Tommy Cox.

The 12 graduates are Joan Clark, Barbara Cole, Jill Cole, Lillian Downing, Joyce Ferguson, Patricia Sabin, Henrietta Sanabria, Barbara Sumner, Vera Swanson, Mary Ann Woehler, Phyllis Young and George Tyree. Four of the graduates will go to Monrovia-Duarte High School and the remainder will go to Woodrow Wilson Junior High School in Pasadena.

Margaret Adwell and Doris Winora Graham are the only Sierra Madre midyear graduates at Monrovia-Duarte High School. Graduation exercises will be held in the school auditorium this (Thursday), January 28 at 8 p.m.

There are nine Sierra Madreans in the midyear graduating class at Pasadena Junior College, whose commencement exercises will be held in the John A. Sexton auditorium at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Two of the nine are upper division students, Stanley E. Wood and Ethel E. Bawden.

The seven lower division graduates are Josephine N. Bawden, John Colligan, Katherine Emily Davis, Dorothy Edwards, George Irwin Lewis, James Morgan Hambrick and Eddie Lee Lauber.

The exercises will be simple but very impressive. The address to the graduating class will be delivered by Dr. James W. Fifield Jr., pastor of the First Congregational Church of Los Angeles, his subject being "The Trend to Universals."

"The American Armed Forces at War" is theme of commencement exercises at Woodrow Wilson Junior High School in Willard auditorium at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon when six Sierra Madreans will line up in the graduating class of more than 60 to receive their diplomas.

The Sierra Madre graduates are Joseph Cox, David Wilt, Kathryn Dowding, Virginia Embree, Gloria Foster and Alice Garivay.

A program of patriotic songs and music will be interspersed with speeches by the graduates on war subjects. Following the ceremonies, parents of members of the graduating class will honor them with a party at the Temple City Women's clubhouse. A late supper will be served after an evening of dancing and games. Kathryn Dowding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Dowding of 514 Ramona ave., will receive an honor citation for service rendered outside her classroom work while attending Wilson Junior High in an assembly program to be given today before parents. The prohibition became immediately effective.

Parking Banned On Canyon Park Roads

Parking on the paved portion of narrow roads in the Canyon Park area is outlawed by an ordinance adopted by the city council Tuesday. Cars and trucks are not permitted to stop except for the discharge of passengers or for short intervals required for loading or unloading on Woodland dr., Vista Circle dr., Sturtevant dr., Oakdale and Alta Vista dr. The prohibition became immediately effective.

Receipts Of Sierra Madre Postoffice Jump 15 Per Cent

Receipts of the Sierra Madre postoffice during the 1942 calendar year showed a gain of 15 per cent over the previous year. Postmaster R. O. Caukin announced this week. They totaled $24,132.60. During the fiscal year 1941 they were $20,616.99; in 1940 they were $21,616.17. There was an increase of a trifle more than 70 per cent in business of the office in the years from 1929 to 1942 inclusive. Receipts for December 1942 were 15 per cent above those of the same month in the previous year, the office handling by far the largest volume of Christmas mail in the city's history.

Ration Plans Hit Family Supplies

Only Five Cans of Rationed Food To Be Allowed Without Loss Of Points

Expecting that the date for registration of citizens for War Ration Book No. 2 will be announced any time now, the district price and ration board has been in consultation with school officials of the three cities in this rationing district and all arrangements have been completed for the greatest of all registrations yet undertaken.

Announcement in Washington yesterday of some details of the rationing program caused officials to conclude the registration will be taken some time between February 20 and 28. One of the details revealed had to do with the quantity of canned fruits and vegetables a household might have on hand at the time of registration without the loss of points from the new ration books.

An order issued by OPA fixed the number as five cans per person in the household. One eight point coupon will be detached for each can over that number when the ration book is issued.

Fixing the penalties on families who have food supplies on hand is expected to be one of the biggest problems for the volunteer registrars and will probably bring forth the longest and loudest protests. As usual registrants will have impressed on them the severity of the penalty for failing to give a correct account of their supplies on hand.

It will not be necessary for each member of a household to register on the dates to be announced it was stated. The head of the family or a member of it may take the No. 1 ration book of each member to the school house with him and register for the entire family. The registrant must be able to give the total number of cans of rationed food the family possesses. It will not be necessary to list the number of cans of each variety, nor to account for home-canned foods.

The local district price and rationing board has passed along to all merchants of the area an OPA order that requires them to furnish a customer with a receipt when it is demanded, showing the date of purchase, amount and price charged for any commodity or rationed item the ceiling price of which may be in question.

Ration coupon accounts were being opened at the Sierra Madre Savings Bank this week by local dealers who will handle commodities to be rationed under the point system. January 27 was the date prescribed by OPA as the time for this business departure, which does not affect ordinary bank depositors. Dealers in rationed articles will simply deposit ration coupons taken in with the sale of rationed commodities. When they wish to replenish their stocks the coupons for the amount of their purchases will have to be turned into their wholesale dealers or manufacturers. Dealers will have to open an account for each rationed commodity—sugar, coffee, canned goods, gasoline, etc.

Arcadian Named To Enforce This City's Dog Ordinance

W. H. Daley, Arcadia's Humane Society officer, has been appointed poundmaster of Sierra Madre. The arrangement was made at Tuesday's meeting of the city council when his compensation was fixed at $35 a month. He will be in this city with his equipment for an hour each Monday, Wednesday and Friday and it will be up to him to enforce the recently adopted ordinance making it illegal to allow dogs and other animals to run at large. He will operate under the supervision of the chief of police.

The council voted to renew the license of L. Perry to operate the N. Baldwin avenue pool hall. It also approved the $5,000 bond submitted by City Clerk Waverly E. Pratt.

Red Cross Meeting To Be Interesting

Officers of the Sierra Madre Red Cross Chapter hope there will be a good attendance of citizens at the Chapter's annual meeting to be held in the City Hall at 7:30 next Monday evening, Feb. 1.

Army Will Observe Fire Rules In Ack-Ack Training

A letter was received by the council Tuesday from the Adjutant at Camp Santa Anita giving assurance that adequate fire protection will be provided by the Army in the area in the northern part of the city it has taken over for training purposes. In a part of the area men at Santa Anita will be instructed in the use of small calibre anti-aircraft guns. All regulations of the Forest Service will be rigidly observed and the area will be patrolled.

Storm Brings Nearly 20 Inches Of Rain To Sierra Madra In 36 Hours

New Masonic Officers Take Posts

Installation of newly elected officers of the Sierra Madre Lodge No. 408, F. and A. M. was held at the Masonic Temple on East Sierra Madre blvd., Tuesday evening.

New officers who were installed by Oliver L. Rawson, Past Master, of Monrovia lodge, were Boy Keith, Master, Raymond D. Andrews, P.M., senior warden, Henry Rintelman, junior warden, Clarence Sandage, treasurer, Benjamin S. Stinman, P.M., secretary, Frederick C. Herrman, chaplain, Jason C. Stecker, senior deacon, Ray O. Caukin, junior deacon, Henry Nord, P.M., marshal, Jack Buchanan, P.M., senior steward, Wilbur S. Hull, junior steward, Arnold G. Bode, organist, and Murvin H. True, tiler.

George B. Morgridge, master of ceremonies and Past Master, welcomed the guests. Dean Arnold G. H. Bode gave the invocation. Mrs. Lela Embree was installing organist.

Misses Marileen and Marjorie Scoville, Marimba artists, played a group of classical and semi-classical numbers. Refreshments were served by members of the Eastern Star following the installation.

Reveal Storm As Donor Of Church Organ

During the evening service at Bethany Church on Sunday at which the new organ was dedicated Rev. S. R. Sheriff revealed that Lieut. Commander Joseph W. Storm, U. S. Navy, retired, had donated the instrument in memory of his wife, Laura Elizabeth Storm, who died several months ago. Until that time name of the donor had been kept a secret.

James H. Shearer of Pasadena, a leading organist of the Pacific coast, presided at the organ during the service.

Revealing the circumstances leading up to donation of the organ, Mr. Sheriff said that about a year ago, the young people's choir let it be known they desired an organ for the church. They arranged very definite prayer meetings urging many to meet with them and to pray individually for a organ. Also they began to gather a fund of their own towards the purchase price of an organ. Various organs had been considered and demonstrated. All told they had in their fund about $200 when Lieut. Com. Storm made known the fact that he had contemplated for some time giving an organ to the church. It should be said that he did not know that anybody in the church had even been thinking along this line. But when he found out that the young people had been praying and had accumulated a small sum he said by all means their money should be put towards the organ first. So the memorial organ to the glory of God and in loving memory of Laura Elizabeth Storm was presented to the church in November, 1942, and a memorial plate placed on the organ, Mr. Sheriff said.

Letters acknowledging receipt of Christmas remembrances sent him by local friends have been received from Pvt. Clark Thew at Walter Reed Hospital, Washington, D. C. He was sent to the Camp Lee training camp in Virginia shortly after his induction and transferred from there to the hospital.

Worth Remembering

The "ceiling" price on 1943 motor vehicle registration renewal tags doubles at midnight, February 4. After the deadline date, the license fee jumps from $3 to $6, while a 50 per cent penalty charge is placed on the in lieu tax. Out-of-State motorists obtaining California plates for the first time also suffer "double trouble" after February 4 with their assessment mounting from $6 to $12.

Storm Brings Nearly 20 Inches Of Rain To Sierra Madra In 36 Hours

More than 19 inches of rain fell within 36 hours at Sierra Madre's northern boundary during the peak of last week's storm, yet the city came through without other than minor property damage.

The torrential rain of Friday night left drains and culverts clogged, more than 2,000 yards of silt and debris along the principal thoroughfares that the street department estimates it will require more than two weeks to clear away.

A huge stream of water that roared out of Bailey canyon threatened property in the northern part of the city, gathered momentum on its way and left its mark as far south as Duarte road in Arcadia, dumping barriers of silt that blocked traffic on Foot-hill blvd., the Santa Fe railroad right of way, Huntington dr. at its intersection with Colorado st., and Duarte road, incidentally flooding a portion of Santa Anita race track property.

Besides this latest downpour, one of the heaviest in 60 years here, the five day rain of February and March 1938 was dwarfed, though more destructive. The rainfall then, measured at the city pumping plant, was 15.54 inches. Five days of the recent storm brought 17.82 inches at the same place.

But in the 36 hours ending at 5 o'clock Saturday evening 18.87 inches of rain had fallen at the Mira Monte reservoir and 19.05 inches at the top of Little Santa Anita dam in Sierra Madre canyon. In the same period 32 inches were recorded at Hoegee's camp north of the city limits. Three previous rains this season left 3.23 inches, which with the 17.82 registered by the storm at the pumping plant brings the seasons total to 21.05 inches. Total at this date a year ago was 8.68 inches.

The heaviest downpour came in the 24 hours between 5 p.m. Friday and the same time Saturday when 8.60 inches were recorded at the pumping station. Greatest precipitation in the 1938 storm was between 6 p.m., March 1, and the same hour March 2. It measured 5.53 inches.

This comparison of the recent and the 1938 storms is a record of rainfall measurements taken at the city pumping plant:

	1942		1938
Jan. 22	7.50	Feb. 21	3.07
Jan. 23	8.60	Feb. 28	3.55
Jan. 24	.85	Mar. 1	3.16
Jan. 26	.20	Mar. 2	5.55
Jan. 27	.67	Mar. 3	.21

During the heaviest downpour shortly after midnight Saturday morning Baldwin ave., Auburn ave. and Lima street and Sierra Madre blvd. between Auburn ave. and Baldwin ave. resembled mountain streams. Silt and debris piled up on the Pacific Electric tracks at Lima street and put the street cars out of commission. Kersting court was a lake and stores on the south side of Sierra Madre blvd. were flooded. Many lawns and Victory gardens in the northern part of the city were ruined. Wednesday morning southern California weather returned, with its blue sky flecked with only little white wisps of clouds, and a bright sun.

Recognition of the fine voluntary service given the city during peak of last week's storm by members of the police, fire and street and water departments was given by the city council at its meeting Tuesday evening when a resolution expressing appreciation was adopted. The council on motion of Councilman Hoegee also directed the city clerk to address a letter to the Sierra Madre News on the subject. The letter follows:

Mr. L. R. Goshorn, Editor Sierra Madre News, Sierra Madre, California.

Dear Sir: Recognition of services beyond the regular call of duty is due those city employees and volunteer firemen who gave so cheerfully their time and efforts in addition to their regular shift during the recent storm.

These men after completing their regular shift or tour of duty immediately reported back to the men in charge of protecting property from storm damage from the torrential rain of better than 16 inches in 36 hours. Many of these men worked straight through this period.

The City Council appreciates this and feels the public should also know the type of service being given by their employees.

Yours very truly,
WAVERLY E. PRATT,
City Clerk.

Boys In "This Is The Army" Show, Having Many Experiences

Private Howard Montgomery of the cast of Irving Berlin's great hit, "This Is The Army," visited over the weekend at the home of his sister, Mrs. Olen Miller of 175 Wilson ave. This is the first reunion of brother and sister in about 12 years. Before entering the army a year ago, Montgomery was a dancer and master of ceremonies and a producer of various New York stage hits.

"This Is The Army"—morale boosting military musical—has played in a dozen of the largest cities in the country. The show is to be made into a movie when the script is ready. With personal appearances plus the movie it is expected to collect near $10,000,000 for Army Emergency Relief.

The 300 soldiers in the cast are having many experiences as they visit the various cities, including dinner with the President while playing in Washington. "Something seems to happen when we come to town," Montgomery said. "As soon as we reached Los Angeles delayed weather came and brought a deluge of rain. When we were playing in Boston the big Cocoanut Grove night club fire brought disaster to so many. I was in the Grove about an hour before the fire. When the time came I left to do our show. It was after the show before I heard about the fire. I personally knew many who lost their lives."

UNCENSORED

—By LEONE BAXTER—

The President's hundred-billion dollar budget, the biggest in all history, is an item to claim the serious attention not only of the financial giants and fiscal experts who understood such ponderous figures—but of every man, woman or child making a minimum salary of twelve dollars a week.

They are the donors who must contribute to that budget. Despite the international holocaust that dictates such onerous requirements, the new wartime obligations laid so heavily on unaccustomed shoulders may be a salutary thing, morally, for the nation.

Looking down the backtrail toward the last world war, the mileposts show 60 per cent of the years were boom years of crazy, extravagant living—and 40 per cent were years of deep-dyed depression, of public bounty and government dole for millions.

The difficulty in measuring up to the world's biggest budget call lies less in the material fact that most people just haven't got the money in the bank, than in the moral circumstances that they have clean forgotten how to save.

For too many years, the economy of the nation has been rooted in the spending theory, nurtured on profligate waste on the one hand and growing personal dependence on the other. But suddenly the time has struck to unlearn those lessons and to turn again to the simple, solid, "old fashioned" virtues of thrift, diligence and self reliance. Of course, the sheer shock of being pitched, unprepared into a fight for national survival may help some.

The first time those "old fashioned" virtues were called into play in this land was during a struggle, too, for national survival. They worked, and the government of the world's ranking republic grew to greatness with those simple principles as its cornerstone. Obviously, a government of, by and for the people couldn't survive without them.

The impact of the weightiest tax program of all time, hitting big and little earners with a wallop that makes them blink, may bring a resurgence of interest—in individual personal interest—in American government, and an appreciation of its virtues. It may persuade men, for their own welfare, to scrutinize the actions of government much more carefully than in the past.

The best things of life may be free—but human nature is much more sensitive to the things that cost the most. Which is neither poetic nor philosophical, but may be just as well, considering that the intelligent interest of every citizen in his government is the most vital need today in retaining that government.

Language Of Allies And Enemies Will Be Taught In Special Classes At P.J.C. For Adult And Day Students

Realizing that in the present war emergency many people have an immediate need of a little knowledge of at least one foreign language, special courses in the language of our allies as well as of our enemies have been organized in Japanese, Chinese, Russian, Portuguese, German, French and Spanish. All these courses meet two hours weekly and are given on the East Campus of Pasadena Junior College and are open to adults as well as to the regular day students.

All classes begin on Monday.

Men In The Army And Navy Need Tons Of Reading Material

A bulletin issued by the Office of War Information this week emphasizes the fact that "the best educated Army in American history" wants more books to read, and calls upon Southland citizens to come to the rescue by digging into their bookshelves and "ponying up" contributions. "Not," the bulletin says, "in the form of volumes on etiquette, nor tones such as the Census Report of 1890, but live, up-to-the-minute books such as hard-hitting intelligent American soldier would want to read."

Southland librarians, who last year rounded up thousands of books for a drive which nationally yielded more than 11,000,000 volumes, today were preparing to supply a hugely augmented 1943 Army and Navy with literally tons of reading material. Added to their list of war-time "patrons" this year are many thousands of book-hungry seamen of the merchant marine, as well as women of the WAACS and WAVES.

Behind the National campaign to round up books for the armed forces are the American Library Association, Red Cross, U.S.O., and the Office of Civilian Defense. All Southland libraries—municipal, county and school—will accept the books and process them for shipment. The SIERRA MADRE NEWS will accept books to be turned over to the Sierra Madre Public Library.

A.L.A. Activities

A delightful Brunch of waffles and Oregon wildflower honey from Lotta Hopper's ranch was enjoyed by our unit at the home of Bertha Sammit at our last meeting. It seemed good to have our Poppy Chairman, Orelia Stinman, back with us again after an absence of several months.

Parliamentarian Grace Caukin has another leave of absence having a call to the vineyards of Central California. The following information has been issued by the National Secretary regarding eligibility of relatives of men and women in World War No. 2, to membership in the American Legion Auxiliary.

"The mothers, wives, sisters and daughters of all men and women who served in the armed forces of the United States on and after December 7, 1941, who died in line of duty or after honorable discharge which terminates the military service, are now eligible for membership in the Auxiliary. Also the mothers, wives, sisters and daughters of those who served during the second World War and who become members of the American Legion by reason of such service and pursuant to the eligibility requirements of the Federal amendment, will be eligible for membership in the Auxiliary, as soon as the one through whom they claim the eligibility under such circumstances becomes a member of the American Legion."

Our next meeting will be Thursday night, January 28th, at the lovely new home of Mrs. Cyril K. Whiteley, 80 S. Baldwin ave. —Maybelle C. Barker, Press Chairman.

LAUDS BOY SCOUTS

Captain Eddie Rickenbacker has recently declared that the American service men are better fighters because of the self-reliance achieved while they were Boy Scouts.

This word comes from New York where Rickenbacker told the committee members and workers of the organization at a "dawn patrol" the foregoing facts concerning the Scouts, saying that Scout teachings are responsible for the way former members handle themselves "in many hell holes through out the world."

Among his pertinent observations was this:

"We spent billions of dollars to take away initiative, self-reliance and rugged individualism in the past years. Today we are spending billions more to teach our youth initiative, self-reliance and rugged individualism. There is no greater cause for Americanism than the Boy Scout movement."

MORE THAN MONEY

To paraphrase one of the old songs of World War I, if we can fight like we can spend, what a great war this must be!

If all the dollars in the President's $109,000,000,000 budget for the coming year were stacked end on end, this Colossus of Budgets would make the Colossus of Rhodes look like a pigmy on parade.

Just to give you a small idea of the bigness of it all, President Roosevelt's new budget, coupled with what we have spent during the year just ended, will bring the total cost of world War II up to $196,000,000,000, which is just a tiny billion short of all Federal spending—including wars—from 1789 to Pearl Harbor!

While other nations are making what they consider titanic efforts, Uncle Sam proposes (under the new budget) to toss into the war pot during the next twelve months more than all the other warring countries—or both sides—put together. As against our $109,000,000,000, Germany proposes to spend $34,400,000,000; England, $21,330,000,000; Russia, $15,000,000,000; Italy $8,670,000,000; Japan, $7,000,000,000; Canada $3,545,000,000.

That budget may startle our enemies; it sure startled us—and we won't really comprehend it until we start paying this year's taxes. But budgets alone—even this Colossus of Budgets—can't win a war. President Roosevelt told us that, too, when he declared in his budget message: "Victory cannot be bought with any amount of money, however large. Victory is achieved by the blood of soldiers, the sweat of workmen and women, and the sacrifice of all people."

WHIPPING A PROBLEM

There are increasing and encouraging indications that some of the key men in positions of responsibility in the United States are recognizing that we can't fight a 100 per cent war on a 40-hour week basis and that luxury labor standards, in common with luxury living standards, must be discarded if we are to keep up our end here at home. Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson has called for a 48-hour week in industry to back up the Army and Navy, declaring: "The average work week in all manufacturing industries, war and non-war, is only 42 and eight-tenths hours. If we could raise that overall average to 48 hours, we could get the same volume of production with 1,500,000 fewer factory employees. In other words, 12,500,000 workers could do the work now done by 14,000,000, leaving the others free to step up our total output. This is no 50 per cent war for the men on the battlefield. It cannot be a 50 per cent war for us at home."

Congress, too, seems to be pointing toward legislation to lengthen the work-week, and the Interstate Commerce Commission, blasting at another barrier, has suspended the operation of so-called short-train laws in the two States where they exist, so as to eliminate needless duplication of train personnel and equipment. In California, the State Legislature has a somewhat similar measure pending, which would suspend operation of the Pull Crew Law for the duration, there by abolishing the practice of using six or seven brakemen where only two or three are necessary to do the job.

All of that is heartening news, for it marks new progress in whipping the manpower problem and keeping the wheels rolling at full speed. As the Undersecretary of War stated, this is no 50 per cent war—and it can't be won by half-hearted effort!

What They Say ---

CRITTENDEN HAMPTON, Sonora author—"It will take more than hellish Germans and Japs to ever tear down the Christian faith; the cross, although temporarily hidden by the black smoke, is still there, in all its original glory."

PIERRE MONTEUX, noted S. F. Symphony conductor, speaking to class of new citizens—"The day I became an American was the most important of my life. But we have a duty to perform, too—to cherish this country, to serve, to give everything in our hearts and in our hands for its protection."

GOVERNOR WARREN, announcing removal of dictograph equipment from Governor's Office, which was installed during Olson regime—"I want officials and citizens to feel that they can come in my office at any time without feeling spied upon or their conversation subjected to eavesdropping."

FATHER WILLIAM J. MORAN, S. F. priest, now serving as Army chaplain in Africa—"War is all it's cracked up to be, but only actual experience can adequately describe it!"

CLIPPED QUIPS

Appearances count. You bet they do—if you're in Court—Quoted.

"Well, gentlemen," said the bailiff at the end of the fifth day in the jury room, "shall I order 12 dinners as usual?" The Foreman: "Better make it eleven and a bale of hay."—Exchange.

The Judge: "Didn't I tell you last time that I never wanted to see you in this court again?" "Yes, yer honor, but I couldn't make this cop believe it."—Advance.

The Judge: "I'll let you off this time, but from now on keep away from bad company." "Thanks, Judge, you'll ever see me here again."—Horizon.

Lawyer: "You say the stolen hens were a rare breed and that is why you are certain they are yours. Now would it surprise you to know that I have a few of that breed?" The Plaintiff: "No."—Salem Times.

The.... Watch Tower

By Perley Poore Sheehan

NOT that we're looking for an easy mark to criticize. But the symbolic figure of Judas Iscariot comes up before us each time that we think of Mussolini. And this for a very special reason. The reason being that we had a friend who, not very long before this War, went to Italy; and there found a land which he described to us, on his return, as a sort of economic Eden. When, as all of us know, in the old days, Italy had been so poor and distracted. Beautiful, sure, and rich in ruins, romance, and all sorts of art. Otherwise, seamy and somewhat leprous, an economic hell. The fruits of which: Beggars, thieves, and organ-grinders—a political disorder high and low. But, avault all that—under Mussolini, oh, oh, what a change!

AS IF Judas Iscariot—not yet the creature we regard him as today—had gone back to his native Kerioth, say, after having already lived for a spell as a member of the Twelve—after having lived in close communion with the Master Economist who was Jesus; and there in Kerioth had put into practice something of his Master's teaching. Feed the hungry! Cleanse the lepers! Sell what you have and give it to the poor! Rise up, ye peasants and wage-slaves! Listen, ye high and mighty! There's a new deal on in Kerioth! My Master has proclaimed it! How each of you is equally a part of God's plan and necessary to the whole. No more law-suits, no more violence. God Himself has said it: "All mine are thine and thine are mine!"

THUS Kerioth-Italy, when our friend was there; and before Judas—Mussolini felt his hankering for the thirty pieces of silver. Meaning, so also do we all know what: That when he had all this he wanted more. Under that mild teaching Mussolini himself had learned—or so it seemed to that friend of ours—to work miracles of a sort. Of no mean sort. For, at that time, a fairly large share of the intelligent world—or of a share who appeared to be—and possibly conceived themselves to be—intelligent; anyway, a large part of the world amazed, and delighted, and a little envious, forsooth, at this miraculous healing of an afflicted Italy by the very Lord's new apostle. And then! But now!

WE DON'T know, nor care to know, what's going to happen to Mussolini now. Hang himself? Burst his bowels out on "the Field of Blood"? That his Italy has now become? No matter. Of small import. Except for his own honor's sake perhaps. Even Judas wins a measure of pity when we read of what befell him—in either of his recorded endings. But what is important—now as in the day of that original Great Betrayal—is that now no repentance, no anguish of remorse, can avert the consequences of that Betrayal. Does Mussolini think of this as he sits alone in the haunted loneliness of his Palazzo Venezia?—his haunted loneliness wherever he may be? Rome is rich in Christian symbols. Will some of these, perhaps, recall to Benito Iscariot the ghostly pageant of this present inevitable, cosmic Crucifixion?

OF A Crucifixion, one might say, magnified from an astral filming of that original Golgotha . . . "They crucified Him . . . and set up over His head His accusation written, THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS. (Germany is still saying it.) Then there were two thieves crucified with Him, one on the right hand and one on the left."

A little distorted perhaps, this magnified projection of the film today as regards that central figure. But who will deny that such as there is of the Christ-Life in the world today—of the powers and the principalities of the modern world as represented by the United Nations, including China, including what yesterday some were still calling "Godless Russia"—may rightly, righteously, be symbolized by the Prophet who also fought and died for Liberty!

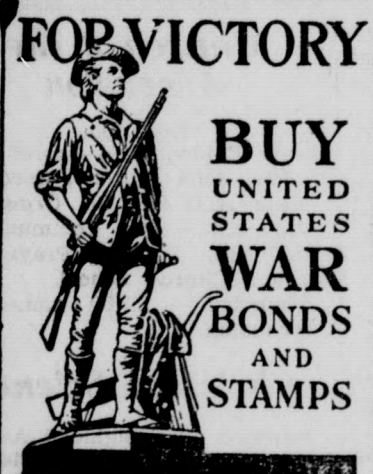

NO DISTORTION, though, as to those two thieves. There they also hang: Germany. Japan. Also crucified. Will one of them, at least, repent? Who can tell? Who can tell what is passing even now in their shaken contrite—or stubborn—hearts? Of this we may at least be sure—basing our prophecy on the good old Bible testimony as it now seems the fashion so to do. Repentance or no repentance, both of these thieves will die. As to their continued existence after that, we'll leave the decision—without misgiving—to the Throne.

BUT JUST the same! For this crucified world of ours—this younger son of the Love of God—can anyone doubt that for this also there shall be an Easter? Softly there comes an echo of the questions the Elder Brother asked—of His frightened disciples—that time he appeared among them after His own crucifixion: Why are ye troubled? and why do thoughts arise in your hearts? Verily, "the word of the Lord abideth forever."

Never must he lift the curiosity-provoking veil with which a Moslem woman covers her face. Uncle Sam's recognition for the necessity of overcoming ignorance of strange ways, heartens with its realism. There's an old saying: "I cannot hate whom I understand." When each nation deals sympathetically with the other's peculiarities, first steps toward a peaceful world will have been taken. We can enjoy each other's differences, rather than despise them. If true for individuals, why not for nations?

American diplomats, newspapermen, and relief workers, held by the Vichy government at Lourdes, have been seized by the Germans as pawns for the German Armistice Commission, imprisoned by American troops in North Africa. The State Department offered to exchange French diplomats and journalists caught in the U. S., but this was the wrong answer. The Germans refused.

Records show that during 1942 96 new factories started in Los Angeles county with a capital investment of $62,800,000. Expansions of plants already in operation totaled $45, with $36,200,000 invested in this type of development. The $99,000,000 total in facilities was an all time high, representing a gain of $8,500,000 over 1941, $36,300,000 over 1940, previous record years. Jobs created by new industrial facilities in 1942 approximate 27,300. This figure does not include the more than 100,000 new jobs created by step-up production from existing facilities.

More than 2,000 women have supplanted men as school traffic guards in Cleveland, Ohio. The guards, on duty about three hours daily from Monday through Friday, are equipped with a rubber poncho, belt, cap, whistle and hand "stop" signs. The women replaced men when the latter obtained war employment.

a synthetic rubber production twice as great as their normal, pre-war requirements, is the belief of Dr. Howard I. Cramer of Philadelphia. Addressing the Royal Canadian Institute in Toronto, he said these synthetic rubber plants would have a profound effect on postwar political and trade relationships. But not one of the recent stories on synthetics include any hope for more of it for private transportation during 1943-44. If the bullet-proof gasoline tank of a Flying Fortress requires 1,246 pounds of rubber, and if we are to provide for increased production in war materials, as well as in the essential transportation of them, the results prove out the same—no more rubber for you and me as private citizens.

Exactly 9,340 new passenger automobiles were sold in the southland from the time rationing began in March to November 1—an eight-month period.

Bus trips in Canada have been curtailed to a maximum of 50 miles except where buses provide the only means of transportation or where other transportation facilities are inadequate.

An eastern newspaper disclosed last week that U-boat sinkings have continued undiminished at the rate of one million tons per month. Such information should sharply awaken us from any dream of security concerning our shipping lanes, especially in the Atlantic. We built 8 million tons in merchant ships in 1942, but simple arithmetic discloses that the Axis sunk 4 million tons more than we were able to build. The United States as a whole can outbuild the sinkings, and our own goal for 1943 is 15 million tons, but even so, the loss in life and cargoes, as well as in ships, mounts to a sickening total. Some weeks ago Mr. Churchill warned that the U-boat warfare had by no means abated, and might grow worse before it got better. The Nazis have stepped up the pace of overseas building. And although the seas near England and America have been largely cleared of the menace, this has only freed the raiders for bitter effort, elsewhere, to interfere with our vital supply lines.

California's famous "gin marriage" law, which requires that couples take three days to hobble to the altar, will probably end up as one of the casualties of World War II. With the gas and tire shortage, running off to Los Vegas, Reno or Phoenix isn't practical—and soldiers and sailors, whose leaves are short at best, are complaining bitterly about the unfairness of it all. The lawmakers are about of a mind to give in and repeal it.

FIRE FLAMES

For the first time in all the many years that the firemen have been holding meetings we had no coffee Friday night. It was not because of the rationing of the stimulant either and there is a mystery about it all. Long before rationing became effective our canny secretary laid away a few pounds of coffee in a niche where he thought it was safe. One morning when our Joe needed some brew, he went stealthily crouched to the secret csg, only to find that the coffee had walked off. The only clue he could give the searchers was that he missed the java on a Tuesday morning. The crew that sleeps at the station on Monday nights is known as a "wrecking crew," but its members say they know nothing of the coffee. Another clue is that the night policemen drink coffee nightly. The cops guarantee that each man brings his own. It will be a great day for the fine collector when the mystery is solved.

Among those who worked hard in an attempt to prevent damage during the storm Friday night, were several of the firemen. What this storm caused is no comparison to what it would have been, had the brush been burned off the mountains. It will pay all of us to prevent fires especially near the hills.

'Can and Cant' Order Tough On Motorists

An OPA bulletin, cutting out all unnecessary verbiage, tells motorists in the 17 states where pleasure driving is forbidden, what they can and "can't do." Under the caption "can" they are told they may, "drive for essential shopping, medical attention, religious services, visits to the sick, attending wakes or funerals, attending meetings or profession of the owner, or necessary to public welfare or the war effort, or to meet an emergency involving a threat to life, health, or property."

And then is what they "can't" do: "drive to places of amusement recreation, or entertainment, such as theatres, amusement parks, concerts, dances, golf courses, skating rinks, bowling alleys or night clubs, or to sporting or athletic events such as races or games, nor for sightseeing, touring, vacation travel, or making social calls."

Under consideration is a plan to make the order more effective by absolutely forbidding all driving on Sunday.

Examination of the bodies of Axis soldiers killed in the Southwest Pacific and the European battlefronts shows what is going to win the war. For every enemy soldier killed by bullets five were killed by shrapnel fragments—from heavy shells and bombs.

Class Teaches How To Save Income Tax

Do you know that there are over 50 deductions on your 1942 income tax allowable on your salary alone, or that many new credits are possible under the new law? Do you have such questions as to whether termite damage repair expense to your home may be deducted from your returns, or how to handle the new allowance for State sales taxes? These and many other problems will be offered by the Extended Day Division of Pasadena Junior College. An enrollment of 150 has made it essential to open a second section and to meet in a larger room. The course consists of ten weekly sessions on either Monday or Tuesday evenings from 7 to 9, Room 158C, East Campus. Enrollment should be made at the Extended Day Office, Room 128C. There are no fees or pre-requisites.

Her Poor Man's Cake Recipe Wins Prize

Her recipe for what she calls "Poor Man's Cake" has brought a $25 prize to Mrs. Matina Peake of 2759 Sanborn ave., La Crescenta, in a national contest.

This is the recipe: 1½ cups mixed fruit, ¾ pound raisins, ¾ pound currants, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup broken walnut or other nut meats, 1 cup sugar, 2 teaspoons butter, 1 cup old fashioned unsulphured molasses, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 teaspoon cloves, dash nutmeg, ¼ cup boiling water.

Mix well and bring to a boil. Allow to cool slowly; preferably overnight.

Then 1½ cups water, 3 cups all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon soda (dissolved in water). Sift flour and add along with the second portion of water in which the soda is dissolved, to the cooked, cooled fruit. Mix until smooth and bake at about 300 degrees—45 minutes.

Will make two loaf cakes. The secret is bake slowly and remove from oven when still soft. Try with toothpicks to determine when done.

Ethel Barrymore Is Coming To Pasadena Civic Auditorium

Ethel Barrymore, called the queen of the American stage, will come to the Pasadena Civic Auditorium Monday, Feb. 15, in Edlyn Williams' play, "The Corn Is Green."

Green." Pasadena and San Diego will be the only towns outside of Los Angeles to have the noted actress in what critics have hailed as the greatest success of her distinguished career.

From the time Miss Barrymore, clad in a straw sailor hat and shirtwaist and skirted, comes onto the stage, leading her bicycle, until the final scene, she gives a performance that is said to be the most moving of her 40-year career. The story of a Welsh mining community and the English teacher's efforts to educate one of its illiterate boys, "The Corn Is Green" was awarded the New York critics' prize as the best play of the year by a foreign author.

Urges Vaccination Against Smallpox

Prompted by the appearance of a case of smallpox in an industrial plant in Torrance, the first case in Los Angeles in two years, Dr. H. O. Swartout, of the Los Angeles County Health Department, issued a general warning to the public yesterday to avail themselves of the protection against this dread disease by vaccination. The appeal was directed especially to newcomers to this state who may not be acquainted with the vaccination program which has been successfully carried on in the schools and health centers by the Department for the past 20 or more years.

It's your War Duty! Play safe KITE FLYERS

This year, more than ever before, it is important that you do not fly your kites near electric power lines...not only for your own safety, but also to avoid possible damage to power lines supplying electricity to vital war factories. Here are the complete safety rules for flying kites:

1. Fly your kite in an open field, away from power lines.
2. Never use wire, tinsel or metallic string.
3. Be sure the cord is perfectly dry.
4. If your kite catches in a power line, let go. Don't pull! Phone the company owning the line and a lineman will come to get your kite for you.

WE HATE LATE TRAINS, TOO!

★ Santa Fe has a long and enviable record of on-time service and we're proud of it. But sometimes it's a case of delaying you or your shipments to "keep 'em rolling"—moving troop trains, war material and food where and when needed, not only for ourselves, but for our Allies as well. We know that's the way you want it!

We dislike crowded dining cars as much as you do—we deplore the fact that you can't always obtain just the accommodations you want when you want them. Equipment, ample in normal times, is now barely adequate for military and necessary civilian travel. Passenger equipment we now have must do. No more can be built for the duration.

Santa Fe appreciates your good-natured understanding during the past year. We'll continue, of course, to give first call to the war effort—but your necessary travel will receive the best service conditions will permit.

Your local Santa Fe Agent will gladly help you with your travel or shipping problems.

Safety Stops Will Remain On Local Military Roads

Regardless of the number of safety stops to be abandoned in municipalities throughout southern California as a rubber conservation measure, none will be discontinued on what have come to be known as military roads, over which troop and supply convoys move, it was announced this week. This means that all the stops of Foothill blvd. and Huntington dr., both military roads, will be continued.

IMAGINE them making guns and ships and airplanes with gas—the same natural gas we use at home! I like the idea. Makes me feel I'm sharing something with our boys off there in the jungles and the desert. Maybe there will be a gas emergency some time this winter as we've been told there might be. Suppose we were asked to use less heating gas—so the war plants can keep going full blast. Well, it's all right with me—I'll be Johnny-on-the-spot to help. Anything I can do for those soldiers, sailors and marines of ours, I'll do!

WHY THERE MAY BE A WARTIME FUEL-GAS EMERGENCY

This winter the reserve supply of natural gas for Southern California, and our facilities for delivering it are the greatest known in history. So you may wonder why, if the supply is abundant, even a temporary fuel-gas emergency could ever occur. Here are the reasons:

1. Gas is doing a double-duty WARTIME job—with a network of pipelines designed for PEACETIME!
2. War Industry's demand for natural gas to speed the production of scores of war essentials has first call.
3. Wartime residential requirements have been greatly stepped up—along with the needs of new military establishments.
4. And most important—steel cannot be obtained to expand the present peacetime network of pipelines—because it is more vitally needed on other fronts.

Under these wartime conditions, certain situations could occur this winter—such as extremes of weather—when the peacetime system of pipelines might not be equal to the task. Your cooperation in such a temporary emergency will be a war service of vital importance.
